NEW YORK, OCTOBER 28, 1834.

FIFTH WARD.

At a meeting of the Fifth Ward, convened at the Hoboken House, corner of Canal and Washington streets, James G. Rohr, was called to the chair, and Wm. Marks, and James Davis, Secretaries.

On motion, the call of the meeting being read, it was moved and carried that a retiring committee be appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of this meeting, on the question to be answered at the coming election, whether the people of this country shall continue to be "free, sovereign, and independent," or yield up their liberties at the feet of a corrupt and irresponsible moneyed institution—whereupon the following gentlemen were appointed—Messrs. J. Sickles, Jr., J. Norris, M. H. Van Dyke, G. Ireland and Jos. Clark.

In the absence of the committee the meeting was ably and eloquently addressed by Messrs. Peixotte and Morris.

The committee having returned, reported the following resolutions, which were read, and being submitted to the meeting, were approved of unanimously.

Resolved, That we view the approaching election as the most important since that of 1800, in which the cause of democracy so gloriously triumphed. That we behold in the friends of the administration the advocates of republican principles, the supporters of the constitution, the friends of union, and the defenders of State rights and the privileges of the people. That in our opponents we can discover only the advocates of federal doctrines—the friends of monopolies—the supporters of aristocratic privileges—the enemies of popular rights and of universal suffrages, and that however we may respect the name of Whig, under which our ancestors opposed the tyranny of a foreign power and achieved an independence as a nation, we despise the party who would assume it for the purpose of deceiving the people, and for obtaining the ascendancy of principles directly at variance with those which our fathers devoted their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor to maintain.

Resolved, That we hold the question before the people at this election to be Bank or No Bank, and that the recharter of the United States Bank depends upon the voice that shall proceed from the people through the ballot boxes, and believing as we do that the monopoly and the privileges enjoyed by that institution are unconstitutional and dangerous to the liberties of the people, we will oppose it with untiring efforts until the monster shall be crushed and the country delivered from its baneful influence, under which the press has been corrupted, and instead of being the shield of freedom, has become the vehicle of slander and an instrument of oppression, through which our venerable chief magistrate has been assailed and traduced—his counsellors vilified, and the feelings of the people insulted—under which it has become the propagator of false alarms, the exciter of panics, and the cause of much misery and distress, spreading through the inflammatory speeches of bank partizan Senators, and the vile doctrines of a corrupt aristocracy.

Resolved, That we will support and maintain the administration of our venerable chief magistrate, Andrew Jackson, under which our country has prospered, our commerce increased, and agriculture and manufactures flourished; by which the most essential and important treaties have been made with foreign powers—our frontiers protected from the incursions of a barbarous foe, and our country made respected abroad and happy at home. That we behold in him the hero who has repelled the invaders of his country in time of war, and the statesman who protected her liberties and advanced her glory in time of peace.

Resolved, That we regard Martin Van Buren as a devoted friend of democratic principles, who by his efficient support of the administration, and opposition to the United States Bank, has become the object of the most bitter persecution and unrelenting slander. We admire the calm dignity with which he presided over the Senate of the United States at its last session, rebuking by his silence the slanderers that assailed him—"Go on thou good and faithful servant," the people have for you a higher reward.

Resolved, That we will support the administration of our State government, that we approve of the six million loan recommended by our enlightened governor, and passed by a patriotic legislature; regarding it as a precautionary measure to be carried into effect if necessary, to protect our citizens and state institutions from the threatened oppression of the United States Bank.

Resolved, That we are opposed to the State Prison monopoly and all other monopolies, regarding them as conferring unequal privileges, as being contrary to the genius of our free institutions, and as having a tendency to make the poor poorer, and the rich richer.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be published in all the democratic papers of this city.

Resolved, That a vigilant committee be appointed, whereupon the following were appointed.

Jewett Norris, John G. Rohr, Lewis Peck, Wm. Marks, Jas. Davis, John Ireland, Geo. Ireland, Saml. Lewis, Saml. Bonner, David Coleman, Corns Bogart, Anth. Kelly, Jno. Sickles, Matt. Lawrence, Robt. Adams, Henry Barnes, Oliver H. Rhoad, Saml. Rhand, Saml. C. Cook, Edw. C. Corwin, Wm. Derickson, Capt. R. Burdick, Jas. Fitzgerald, Thos. Allen, Jno. Harlow, N. Whitman, Jno. Horspool, Geo. Hodgson, S. B. Cotton, Fred. Tarr, S. J. Low, Asher Martin, Amos Leeds, Jno. J. Riker, David Harrit, J. A. Inance, E. B. Tyler, Jno. Johnston, Wm. Black, Edward R. Painter, Jno. Ackland, Richd. Nelson, Jno. Short, Dennis Brink, James Welsh, Geo. W. Noble, Arthur McGoff, Wm. P. Haines, Alex. Ming, Jno. Shepherd, Jr., Jno. M. Emmet, Jno. M. Patterson, Chas. C. Clarke, Edw. Palmer, Clement Duvall, Jas. Davall, Chas. Hatfield, Jno. Cunnane, Sampson Moore, George Scarff, John Cunnane, Jr., Peter Thompson, Chas. Waits, James Ryan, Thos. J. Franks, E. H. Hurst, Jonathan Delong, Samuel Edsall, David Decker.

At a Democratic Republican Meeting, held pursuant to public notice at the English Kills, in the township of Newton, County of Queens, L. I., at the house of John Van Colt, Col. Edward Leverich was unanimously called to the chair, and Wm. Hegaman and John Cutting, were appointed Secretaries thereof.

On motion resolved, a committee was appointed by the chair to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting; whereupon the following persons were appointed: William Hegaman, John Cutting, Jarvis Jackson, Saml. Way and Dan. Rupalje, Jr.

The Committee retired and prepared the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

1. Resolved, That we fervently feel the glorious privileges of civil and religious liberty, conferred upon us by our admirable republican institutions, gained for us by the manly exertions of the heroes of '76!—supported by the perseverance of the Democratic Republicans, and defended against the assaults of foreign invaders and domestic enemies by the bravery, patriotism, and wisdom of our present Chief Magistrate, Andrew Jackson.

2. Resolved, That we have an increased confidence in the administration of the executive power by that sage and hero, whose motto is—

"The Country!—It must and shall be defended!"

"The Union!—It must and shall be preserved!"

"The People!—They must and shall be protected."

3. Resolved, That we consider such an institution as the Bank of the United States, an unjust monopoly of the monied aristocracy, contrary to the spirit of the constitution and genius of our institutions, and dangerous to the very existence of liberty—by its power of controlling the suffrages of the people and corrupting the press of the country; therefore,

4. Resolved, That we heartily concur in the measures taken by the President, of putting his Veto upon the Bank Bill, and afterwards removing from the keeping of the Bank the public money.

5. Resolved, That we view with unqualified disapprobation and disdain the vote of censure passed by the Senate of the United States upon our venerable President—and we look equally so on their mean refusal of entering his unanswerable Protest on the journals of their house; thus endeavoring to wound his feeling to the utmost, to bring him into contempt with the people of the present generation, and to blast his fair fame in the opinion of posterity; at the same time we cannot refrain from expressing our heartfelt pleasure that their envy and malice, like "poisoned arrows shot against a wall of adamant," have recoiled on their own heads!

6. Resolved, That we consider the passing of the Six Million Loan Act, in our State Assembly, as being a measure called for by the urgency of the occasion, viz: to protect our own State against the insidious attacks of the U. S. Bank.

7. Resolved That we fully approve of the nomination made at the Herkimer Convention, of William L. Marcy for re-election as Governor, and John Tracy for re-election as Lieutenant Governor of our State; and we pledge ourselves to make use, individually and collectively, of all honorable means in our power to secure the same; as we will also, generally, to secure that of the other candidates nominated for office on the Democratic ticket.

8. Resolved, That we hail with rapture the recent glorious victory obtained through the ballot box by our fellow unionists of the state of Georgia, over that vile and devilish spirit of nullification, which would, if carried out, trample the Star Spangled Banner in the dust, and make our principle of self-government the scoff, derision and byword of the nations of the world.

9. Resolved, That we look with contempt upon the silly and ridiculous effort of our political opponents to flieh from us our old Revolutionary cognomen of Whig, and the affixing of it to their already over-loaded list of titles, to wit: Tories of the revolution; monarchists of '87; federal alien and sedition law advocates of '98; Washington benevolents of 1813; blue lights and Hartford Conventionists of 1814; coalitionists of 1824; coffin handbill republicans of 1828; national republicans of 1830; anti-masonic national republicans of 1832; and whigs of 1834! alias Tory Bank Wigs! oh! oh! oh! we really feel considerable alarm least they should disgrace our yet uncontaminated appellation of Democratic Republican, by making a like thievish appropriation of it; but we will say with the immortal dramatist—"He who robs me of my good name, robs me of that which not enriches him, and makes me poor indeed."

10. Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by the chairman and secretaries, and be published in the New-York Times, Evening Post, Jeffersonian, The Man, and the Brooklyn Advocate. EDWARD LEVERICH, Chairman.

Wm. Hegaman, } Secretaries.
John Cutting, }

TO THE ELECTORS OF QUEENS COUNTY.

THOMAS B. JACKSON, the democratic candidate for assembly, has been assailed by falsehood and abuse. His conduct as your representative in the Legislature has been censured, and he has been arraigned for faithfully discharging the duties of the office which you conferred on him. It is not strange that a desperate faction should assail him: it is part of its system of tactics to blacken the character of every man who will not bow to its will. It is for the electors of Queens to say whether the system of proscription shall be tolerated, and a man who has proved himself a faithful representative, firm and true to the interests of his constituents, hunted down and destroyed by the supporters and advocates of the corrupt United States' Bank.

The Loan Law was not voted for on its final passage by Thomas B. Jackson. Thomas B. Jackson did not vote to imprison the poor man and let the rich go free.

The following is the principal features of that bill as brought before the Legislature: No defendant by this bill can be imprisoned on any judgment rendered by any justice in any civil suit founded on contract, if at the time of rendering such judgment he shall file with the court an inventory of all the goods, money, choses in action, property, or other valuable thing owned by him at the time of the service of the process. Thomas B. Jackson proved himself the friend of the poor man by guarding the law respecting imprisonment for debt with such restrictions as will save the poor man from the oppressions of the rich, punish fraud, and protect honest poverty, from those who would oppress it.

In that law every protection that a regard for the poor man's rights could suggest, has been carefully given. The only requisition put on the poor man by that law is that he shall prove his inability to pay by offering an inventory of his property. That requisition complied with, he is beyond the reach of the oppressor, his person is sacred. He cannot be imprisoned and his liberty is not in the slightest degree coerced. No honest man need fear a jail under that law: it punishes fraud alone. The dishonest man alone is liable to be punished, and the liberty of the honest poor man is respected and sacred. It is the poor man's law, for it protects him in the enjoyments of all his rights.

From whom does the opposition to Thomas Jackson come? From a rich man, from John A. King, one of a family of aristocrats, a man who has no feelings in common with the poorer classes, who mingles with them only when he wishes to secure their votes for the party of which he is a leader, and who imagines that he can succeed by appealing to the prejudices of a class which in heart he despises. You will teach him that they can neither be duped nor cajoled. The democrats of Queens will be true to Thomas B. Jackson, a man who has been true to them, who has supported firmly and will support, the interests of his constituents, who has been tried and found faithful to those who gave him his trust.

TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 28.

THE JUBILEE held yesterday afternoon by the Democratic Republicans, in celebration of the recent great triumphs of their political brethren in Maine, Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Georgia, passed off with universal good spirit and hilarity amongst the participants. Not less than eighteen thousand persons were congregated within the precincts of the Garden, and some five thousand more, who could not possibly gain access even to the bridge, by reason of the crowd, gave repeated demonstrations of their hearty concurrence in the joy within the Garden. Numerous brief and patriotic addresses were delivered by various gentlemen, and in the great saloon we noticed a young and brave looking tar, tarpaulin in hand, mounted on the shoulders of several brother tars, addressing the throng which wedged the room, and who was constantly interrupted by the cheers and plaudits of his comrades and auditory.

Amongst the numerous banners which graced the scene, was one borne in the procession of Cordwainers, which bore the following ominous and cutting inscription: "The Cordwainers DISCLAIM Silas M. Stilwell as a mechanic. He is NOT of our craft." The Garden was surrounded with appropriate and pertinent placards, which were alternately repeated aloud by some strong-lunged democrat, and hailed with cheers and huzzas. About 6 o'clock the crowd formed a procession on the Battery, proceeded, accompanied by a noble band of music, up Broadway to Wall street, down Wall to William, up William street, past the offices of the Star and the Post, saluting the former with groans, and the latter with three-times-three, and proceeded up to the old wigwam, where they kept up their "jubilee" till a late hour in the evening. No accident nor untoward event, that we could hear of, occurred to mar the hilarity of the day, and the whole passed off to the entire satisfaction of all—but the Wigs.

THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE will meet, we understand, this evening, to fill a vacancy in the Assembly ticket, caused by the declination of one of the candidates who had been nominated. In respect to Mr. WINDT, whose name, among others, is before the committee for the vacancy, a correspondent is informed that he is a native citizen, born in this city, though of German descent on the one side and Irish on the other. In his character are blended the prudence and perseverance of the German with the warm hearted enthusiasm of the Irish. He is the man who was discharged from the employment of Messrs. Hoe & Co., of this city, on account of the part he took against the United States Bank at the great meeting in the Park on the 8th of February last.

[?] We have received a communication signed "A Cordwainer," complaining loudly that, with one exception, there is not a man on the list of candidates for Assembly nominated at Tammany Hall, who is an old and tried friend of the measures of the administration for reforming the currency, and mentioning one individual who is not known to be a year old in favor of the principles. We acknowledge that there is cause for the complaint, but we hope it will be partially removed this evening.

[?] We are informed on good authority that the false and scurrilous article in relation to Ely Moore, which appeared in a Bank penny paper yesterday morning, was written by the editor of the "New Yorker!" It is well that the friends of liberal principles who are subscribers to the New Yorker should understand what sort of a character they are supporting.

THE LATE ELECTIONS.

The official returns have not yet all come in from Ohio, and the precise majority for Lucas, and the democratic majorities in the Legislature and in Congress, of course are not yet officially known. In the Evening Post of yesterday, we find the following relative to South Carolina and Georgia.

ALL HAIL SOUTH CAROLINA! NULLIFICATION NULLIFIED!—The returns from South Carolina, so far as received, show the election of three administration members of congress. The bank party doubtless would have rejoiced had nullifiers been rechosen instead of these friends of the union and of democratic principles, having succeeded. All true friends of their country, however, must be highly gratified with the present result, both for the accession of strength which it gives to the Administration party in Congress, and from considerations connected with the recent unhappy political condition of that state by which the evidence of returning reason and patriotism is afforded.

FROM GEORGIA.—The Charleston Patriot of the 20th instant, contains the following paragraph:

Returns from 79 Counties have been heard from in Georgia, giving the aggregate number of votes for Members of Congress. The average majority is now about 3000. There are 11 counties to be heard from, which will increase the Union majority about 500 more. For the State Legislature all the counties have been heard from with the exception of five. In the Senate, there is at present a majority for the Union Party of 27, and in the House of 43—on joint ballot a majority of 70. The remaining five counties to be heard from will, it is supposed, give a majority in the Senate of 60 to the Union Party, and in the House of 46—on joint ballot a majority of 76 to that party.

FOR "THE MAN."

MR. EDITOR—I have received a printed notice stating that I have been elected a member of the "Whig Vigilance Committee" of the Seventh Ward, and inviting me to attend a meeting of the same on Wednesday evening next. I never consented to be on the Wig Committee, and am not sensible of having given the least cause for suspecting me to be any thing else than the decided opponent of the Paper Money Monopoly which it is their object to uphold.

MR. EDITOR—I am informed that a certain Major was seen at a Wig Meeting last week with Mr. John A. K—g's gold specs on. I wonder if he has bought them?

THE UNITED STATES BANK.

FOR "THE MAN."

MR. EDITOR—If any proof is wanting to convince unprejudiced minds of the utter subserviency of the opponents of the present administration to the interests of the Bank of the United States, let them examine the course of their leaders and leading presses for the last two years. It will be remembered that Daniel Webster, in the course of a long speech delivered by him in the Senate in the summer of '32 on the subject of the Bank charter, depicted, in most glowing and horrific colors, a picture of beggary and distress, of bankruptcy and utter ruin, which (according to the logic of that veteran federalist) must inevitably follow a refusal to renew the charter of the Bank. Thus we find that ruin and distress were predicted as long ago as the summer of '32; and surely they have most diligently sought to cause their own predictions to be verified. It will likewise be remembered that for some time previous to the removal of the deposits, the cry of pressure and distress was again raised, the Bank commenced a rapid curtailment of its loans, state institutions were called upon for their balances in specie, thereby forcing them in self defence to contract their discounts—and hence the pressure: but we were gravely informed that such was the necessary course of the Bank preparatory to the winding up of its concerns, and instead of relief we might expect a continuance and increase of the pressure unless government would consent to its recharter. But after the removal of the deposits, then that particular act was seized upon as the very reasonable cause of all our woes, and the legitimate source of all distress: the hue and cry was raised, "distress memorials and panic speeches" were circulated far and wide, and a run was commenced upon our State Banks; in short no efforts were spared, no means left untried, likely to produce confusion and panic in the business community; and when they had in a measure effected their very laudable purpose, they, pointing to their own work, alluding to the distress which they themselves had created, cry out, "Behold the effects of the removal of the deposits, the acts of the tyrant Jackson!" accompanied by all those epithets of slander and abuse which have been heaped upon the head of our devoted chief magistrate. And what was their remedy for all this? why the old story—a restoration of the deposits and recharter of the Bank, which, by their arch-leader-Henry Clay has been styled a Whig Bank, (of course a modern one,) thereby acknowledging and giving a political character to a mere money corporation. Will the intelligent citizens of this free republic witness the unlawful and powerful efforts of that mammoth institution to force a recharter and perpetrate its existence, without placing their indignant "Veto" on its giant power? can they witness the sudden transition of presses and partisans from the most violent opposers, to the most sycophantic flatterers and very humble servants of that institution; can they witness men of high standing and acknowledged talents entertaining political opinions diametrically opposite, suddenly to unite (as we read that Herod and Pilate of old were made friends on a certain occasion) without distrusting their motives, without believing that some secret influence some powerful charm, some most weighty and convincing arguments, were brought to bear upon the understanding of these Honorable gentlemen, and offered "facilities" for their change of opinion, for the violation of pledges, and disregard of the express instructions and known sentiments of their constituents?

Fellow Citizens, are we prepared to be governed by such a heterogeneous mass of political antipathies, cemented together by the Bank, and kept together alone by its influence; having no common interest or sentiment but opposition to Gen. Jackson and Democracy, and fulsome adulation and support of the Bank? We must answer this at the ballot boxes: the people will there decide, whether a manied aristocracy shall usurp the reins and destroy the liberties of our still free government, or whether those principles divulged and nurtured by that apostle of liberty, THOMAS JEFFERSON, which resulted in his election to the Presidency in 1800; which impelled the Democratic Madison to recommend, declare, and prosecute with vigor the last war; which animated our seamen and soldiers at New Orleans, on Lake Erie, and at Plattsburgh, and our statesmen in the cabinet during that eventful struggle, and which still impels our venerable president in his fearless warfare with that mammoth monopoly the Bank of the United States, shall obtain their just preponderance? There can be no doubt of the result. Let not be deceived by the new disguise of the enemy. Though, Proleus like, they assume a thousand new shapes and forms, yet they are the same old enemy with whom our fathers contended. They were Tories of '76—the were the Federalists of '98—the Peace Party and Hartford Conventionists of '13—the Nationals of '28—the Independents of '32—the Whigs of '34. Such is the character of the opposition with whom we have to contend, and in "free America" can the result be doubtful? No—their still patriotism is sufficient to surround our institutions with a phalanx of Democracy, and our Constitution with support.

A DEMOCRAT.

THE HERMITAGE IN ASHES.

NASHVILLE, Oct 13, Monday night.

Intelligence has this moment reached Nashville that the Hermitage, the residence of President Jackson, has been burned to the ground since dinner. Two gentlemen belonging to this city have just returned from the ruins, who where present during the conflagration. It was accidental—the fire probably took from some defect in one of the chimneys as the upper part of the house was first discovered to be on fire. All the furniture and the valuable effects in the lower part of the house were saved; it is conjectured that the loss is great, and in the destruction of documents, may be irreparable.

I was present only last week at the Hermitage little thinking that the handsome and imposing edifice was soon, like the visions of human grandeur, to vanish into thin air.

The residence of Gen. Jackson, as your readers know, is ten miles from the city of Nashville. In a beautiful location,—the house having stood about a mile from the Cumberland river, on the southwest bank. The plantation is almost as level as the lands on the banks of the Connecticut at Deerfield, Hadley, or Northampton; but the improved part of the plantation is entirely surrounded by a beautiful forest, not a single dwelling of man being in sight from the General's late residence. The fields having been cleared up more than twenty years ago, no stumps are to be seen; and the contrast between the highly cultivated cotton fields and the encircling forest was most strikingly impressive.—The plantation, however, seemed lonely. The green belted woods sent back the echoes of agricultural life, as if there were no living responses beyond that quiet oasis.

LOSS OF THE CAMELEON.—She lies about the same spot where she went down, almost immediately opposite the yard where she was built, in about 11 or 12 fathoms water, at the distance of two miles from the shore, where a buoy has been put down with a small Dutch flag floating above high water mark, to denote that there is danger to vessels going near the spot. Boats are continually going round her, but not a body out of the number drowned has yet floated up, and the weather has been too rough to attempt to weigh her, even if the lighters were here. On the morning the accident occurred, the frigate's people were washing down the decks, and coming along at a spanking pace; the cutter's people had been reefing the mainsail, after coming from Dungeness, and had all gone to rest except four or five. The chief mate of the cutter having caught sight of the frigate, and seeing that the sails would not fill, ran below to ask the commander what he should do, when before he could obtain an answer, the frigate struck her on her starboard side and after making one lurch she went down like a stone.—Eng. pa.

A Duel took place on Wednesday, which was attended by singular circumstances. One of the combatants having had the first fire, placed himself in an attitude to receive that of his adversary, who took a long and deliberate aim. The ball passed through his skull, and he died instantly. A few seconds afterwards his adversary also fell and expired, for he had received a ball which traversed his lungs; he nevertheless retained sufficient strength to execute the deadly purpose of his deliberate aim. The combatants went to the field to revenge a double and reciprocal adultery. Galignani's Messenger.

The Hon. THOMAS GRIMKE of South Carolina, died of cholera, at Gwynne's farm, about 22 miles from Columbus, in Ohio, on Saturday the 11th inst. He was on his way from Cincinnati to Columbus when he was attacked by that disease in the stage; and before physicians could arrive was in a state of collapse, from which all efforts to raise him were ineffectual.

At a meeting of the Democratic Republican General Committee of the city of New York, convened at Tammany Hall on Wednesday evening, the 22d inst. the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, at the last election in this city the inestimable right of suffrage, which should at all times be held sacred, was grossly violated by the proscription and persecuting measures of the enemies of Democracy, who by threats to discharge and actual dismissal of Clerks, Cartmen, Laborers, and others, in their employ, sought to deprive the People (particularly the working classes) of their free choice, and of their privileges as electors; and whereas, it is due to the character of our city, that the free and undisturbed enjoyment of the elective franchise, should be secured to our citizens, and that the most energetic measures should be adopted to bring to condign punishment those who may attempt to interfere with such rights—Therefore

Resolved, That it be recommended to the several Democratic Republican Ward Committees of the city and county of New York, forthwith to appoint a Committee of Three in each Ward, in special reference to the carrying into effect the following provision of the Revised Statutes—said Committee to be called

THE DEMOCRATIC PROTECTION COMMITTEE:

SECTION 4TH. If any person shall by bribery, MENACE, or other corrupt means or device whatsoever, either directly or indirectly, attempt to INFLUENCE any elector of this State in giving his vote or ballot, or to deter him from giving the same, or DISTURB or HINDER him in the FREE EXERCISE of the RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE, at any election within this State held pursuant to this chapter, and shall thereby be convicted, such person so offending and convicted, shall be adjudged GUILTY of a MISDEMEANOR, and be FINED or IMPRISONED according to the discretion of the Court before which such conviction shall be had; such fine in no case to exceed five hundred dollars, nor such imprisonment one year.—Revised Statutes, page 149.

Resolved, That it shall be the duty of the said Committee to adopt immediate measures for the discovery of offenders, and for the prosecuting to conviction all violators of the foregoing Law.

Resolved, That these proceedings be published in all the Democratic papers of the city until after the election.

WILLIAM S. COX, Secretary.

SEVENTH WARD.
DEMOCRATIC REPUBLICAN MEETING.

The Democratic Republicans of the Seventh Ward met yesterday afternoon pursuant to public notice, to raise a Liberty Pole, and to dedicate their newly erected "Democratic Hall" to Liberty, and to the support of the Constitution and the Laws. The utmost enthusiasm prevailed during the ceremony, and after the Liberty Pole had been firmly secured, and the star-spangled banner was floating in triumph over the heads of the assembled multitude, the meeting was called to order by Mr. John J. Bedient, who nominated Mr. Joseph Smart, as President.

Mr. Smart, on taking his seat, addressed the meeting in a spirited and energetic manner, and returned his thanks for the honour that had been conferred upon him in being chosen to preside over a so highly respectable collection of his democratic fellow citizens.

On motion of Mr. Alfred A. Smith, David Halsey, Esq. was chosen Vice President, and John J. Bedient and Dr. James H. Rogers were appointed Secretaries.

Alfred A. Smith, Esq. submitted the following resolutions which were received with the most enthusiastic applause.

Resolved, That we dedicate "Seventh Ward Democratic Hall" to Liberty; that we constitute it the Headquarters of the democracy of the ward and that with all our might and all our soul, we will advocate in its spacious Hall, those Jeffersonian principles of liberty, liberality and equality, which have been sustained by the democratic republicans, from the first dawn of American liberty, through good and evil times, and which now are openly threatened by the bank-tory-whigs, with subversion.

Resolved, That we give our cordial and hearty thanks to the many enthusiastic democrats, who with voluntary aid, have assisted to raise in a few hours, this Hall of Democracy, in which for a short season we are to meet. Nerved in the good cause of Andrew Jackson and the people, against a Bank Aristocracy, they left the scene of their daily toil to present an offering of hearts and hands to liberty.

Resolved, That it gives us pleasure to bear testimony to the worth of that esteemed and consistent democrat, Edward Witherell, who opened his house to us when the Imperial Edict of the Board of Aldermen was issued, prohibiting us from meeting in the Court room in which we were used to assemble.

After the resolutions had been adopted, Mr. Bedient was called on, when he delivered an eloquent and spirited address, and concluded by offering the subjoined resolution, which was passed amidst the cheers and acclamations of the meeting.

Resolved, That the thanks of this meeting be tendered to Nicholas Schureman, Esq. for the munificent manner which he has loaned us the free use of the ground on which we have erected our "Democratic Hall," and that we take great pleasure in making his patriotic conduct generally known to his democratic fellow citizens.

On motion of John Anderson, Esq. a committee of six were appointed to wait on Mr. Schureman, with a copy of the resolution, tendering to him the thanks of the meeting, when John Anderson, John J. Bedient, Caleb S. Fordham, David Halsey, John Murphy and John Cox, were appointed said committee.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by the several officers, and be published in all the democratic papers in the city.

JOSEPH SMART, President.
DAVID HALSEY, Vice President.

WOOLLEY'S PATENT PREMIUM BEDSTEADS. Persons desirous of purchasing Bedsteads, whether the sofa, chair sideboard, counter, or ordinary, will find it to their material advantage to call and examine those manufactured at the corner of Broadway and White street, by E. S. WOOLLEY. The ordinary Bedsteads of his manufacture have sacking bottoms so constructed as to be tightened with a key—an invention universally pronounced superior to any other plan for the sacking bottom Bedsteads. The Cot Bedsteads are of equal finish and pleasing appearance with the ordinary bedsteads; have sacking similarly constructed with them, and can be taken down at will with the utmost ease and rapidity. Woolley's Sofa Bedsteads, for beauty, durability, economy and accommodation, defy competition—they will contain a durable sacking bottom bedstead, with bed and bedding, without the least injury to their beauty or use as a parlor sofa. These bedsteads have been considered of such decided superiority, as to uniformly receive the first premiums at the last three successive anniversaries of the American Institute. Attention is respectfully invited to the "Chair Bedstead," invented for the accommodation of the sick. This invention has proved so successful as to receive the general approbation of the Medical Profession, and is of such great benefit to persons confined to the bed, that it is believed every family would avail themselves of its use if they would but call and examine its utility. More explicit description is deemed needless, as persons wishing to purchase will call and examine for themselves, and the proprietor is confident that all, upon observation, will be convinced of the advantage in economy and comfort to be derived from Bedsteads of his manufacture. my24

NUNNS, respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have always on hand an assortment of cabinet, harmonic, and square Piano Fortes, from their manufactory, at their warehouse, No. 137 Broadway, two doors north of the City Hotel.

The extensive sale which the instruments of their manufacture have had throughout the United States for some years, has made them so well known as to preclude the necessity of saying anything with regard to the quality of the instruments bearing their name; they can only add, that the result of many years' experience in this branch of manufacture, added to the extended scale, they are prepared to carry it on, will enable them to offer advantages to purchasers equal to any other house in this Union.

Orders from the country punctually attended to, and old Piano Fortes taken in exchange. my24
